Group Meditation Work

November 6, 2010 through December 5, 2010

The basis of all Logoic action is love in activity, and the fundamental idea on which He bases action connected with the human Hierarchy is the power of love to drive onward,—call it evolution, if you like, call it inherent urge, should you so prefer, but it is love causing motion and urging onward to completion. A Treatise On White Magic P.115

December 6, 2010 through January 3, 2011

synthesis is an attribute of the divine will and the outstanding quality of Deity....intelligence and love ... are qualities of the will; they make the manifestation of the divine will possible; they guarantee its intelligent application and its magnetic power to draw to itself all that is needed for the expression or the manifestation of the divine envisaged purpose, visualized synthetically, and motivated, implemented, engineered and made possible by the dynamic aspect of the same will. The Rays And The Initiations P. 120

December 2010

Dear Friends:

In this letter we are, once again, going to ask for your financial support for Arcana Workshops. Since most everyone wants to know what they are spending their hard earned cash on, we thought that it would be good to give you some idea regarding the work Arcana does in "playing its part in the Plan of the Great Ones."

AW is a center of focused scientific meditation training and service work in Los Angeles, California, the heart center of the United States of America. It has been here working on a daily basis for over 45 years. Over these years, we have provided training from a beginning to an advanced level for many, many individuals in the science of occult meditation as designed and supported by the work of Masters D.K., M., and R. We initiated and fostered the full moon work in the heart center and have held public full moon meetings every full moon for over 45 years.

Today we are a small (AW's core group has never gone over 12) but vibrant and powerful center working within the heart of this nation. Our service work is the development and delivery of the subjective initiating power of thought that drives various exoteric service programs like Thoughtline, Full Moon Magic booklet (current version 2010-2012), our weekly workshops and full moon meetings, into form. In addition, much of our service work involves focused/directed meditation fostering the Common Good and General Welfare and the supporting of the unfolding processes of the externalizing Hierarchy and the reappearing Christ all around the world. We also participate in the worldwide intergroup service effort known as World Service Intergroup.

For years and years now, we have been asking the brothers and sisters with whom we have been discussing our mutual work and its implications in the world community via Thoughtline for help with the financial needs of the group. We think of Thoughtline as the outer expression of the Group's inner workings. It is a kind of report, a sharing with our larger group life of the subjective evolution of the group's expanding consciousness. As you all know, we are totally transparent concerning our work and our needs, of which rent, insurance, producing and mailing Thoughtline and Full Moon Magic are the largest, and a small amount of incidental office costs.

As we have pointed out over the years, no one at Arcana Workshops is, or ever has been paid to do anything at all. Quite the contrary. The major share of the group's financial needs is met by the people doing the work. But this is the Way of the Path. We all pay, in one way or another, to serve the Plan.

In addition to our e-list, we maintain a small snail mail list of about 225 or so people because there are a number of folks who do not have computers or who would rather get Thoughtline in a hard copy format. We have long noted that the vast majority of the money that co-workers donate in response to these yearly requests come from individuals who receive Thoughtline via snail mail.

As I was getting ready to send out this year's appeal, I was pondering on the reasons for that. Why is it that individuals who receive Thoughtline via e-mail are not more forthcoming? I came up with several reasons:

Arcana does not have an easy online donation button thing. One of the reasons we do not have such technology on our website is because volunteers in this particular area of the work are as scarce as hen's teeth, and we lack the funds to hire a person to do that.

So that means we depend on the hard mail system for donations. I happen to be an individual who has a very difficult time actually using the hard mail system for anything. It takes me a long time to even get an envelope and a stamp in close enough proximity to make them join. So I understand that.

Friends in countries outside of the United States face even bigger hurdles. Even if one can overcome the envelope and stamp blockage, there is the whole different monetary systems thing and the fact that a check drawn on a non-US bank takes a long time to clear and fees are deducted.

Even the sending of currency (which everyone thinks is dangerous, but which I think is perfectly safe in terms of having it not stolen) requires having the currency exchanged and there are fees associated with that.

I suppose that there are other reasons, but there will always be reasons that make doing some very worthwhile things difficult or time consuming. Even voting in this country is a huge chore for many folks. So, I guess what I am asking, is that, you know, if you think our discussions and commentaries are valuable or useful or something, that you try to get by whatever little hurdle might be in your way and make a donation to the work we are doing together.

Small is still beautiful from our point of view. So, we are not looking for millions, although should you be so moved, 10 or 15 thousand would help us get our web site into a more useful and useable condition.

Now, having asked you all for some money, let me say that you know as I do, that giving something involves the giver in the work and action to which he or she gives. We know that you all give your time and attention to our mutual service. That is what makes it Co-creative. And we deeply appreciate that.

loving us

We Are Humanity

The world is one world and its sufferings are one; humanity is in truth a unity, but many are still unaware of this and the whole trend of the present teaching is directed to the awakening of humanity to this while there is yet time to avert still more serious conditions. The sins of humanity are also one. Its goal is one and it is as one great human family that we must emerge into the future. I would emphasize this thought: it is as one humanity, chastened, disciplined but illumined and fused, that we must emerge into the future. Destiny Of The Nations P. 65

I have long been endeavoring to clean up various Cosmic concepts such as love, service, balance, or justice, and, in the last Thoughtline, freedom. The beauty, meaning, and significance of these and many other Cosmic direction indicators which I plan to take into the shower have been simply buried under tons of half, even quarter-baked effluvia and just plain nonsense. Through a method of scientific analysis, by which I mean moving from initial contact with formless concepts into form vs. the traditional logical or intellectual approach of trying to move from formulations of the concepts back to the concept, my effort is to get back to the meaning and significance of these older-than-ancient, synthesized formulae to unearth their scientific roots.

These root Principles, when scientifically unpacked, reveal algorithmic-like systematic processes to move concepts from their original states of formless Intention into harmonious and coherent forms. These processes complete the revelation of what we call the Way. This Way is actually the Path that leads humanity, the Lost Word of ancient Lore, forward out of form identification and back to the future from whence we came, realizing that future is a place in consciousness not in time.

These processes are vital. They are akin to the instructions that came with that barbeque you bought at Home Depot, or with that 1,204 piece Lego set of the Space Shuttle, complete with its booster rockets, that you gave to your 9 year old grandson for Christmas. Imagine building a space shuttle without any instructions.

We are trying to build Space Shuttle Earth with instructions that have been both ignorantly and deliberately obfuscated.

The facts are even worse. We are trying to build Space Shuttle Earth with instructions that have been both ignorantly and deliberately obfuscated, with instructions that actually leave huge basic sections completely out and others totally disfigured. How far will that shuttle go before some cataclysmic explosion or crash?

What we see today, all around us, is Humanity's effort to build the Plan for planetary evolution based on such a set of manipulated instructions. However, a clear-eyed look at the present planetary conditions indicates that while they are still careening out of control, there is hope. That we are still airborne or afloat is a tribute to human persistence and a long line of Humanity's hopers or heroes. Their courage and persistence to find the Truth at all cost has managed to keep us, for all these eons, from plunging irretrievably into the abyss of materialism.

In all cases, these heroes understood and acted upon the instructions embedded in the ancient Principles which underlie the construction of Universe. These instructions are, and have forever been, unpackable by human beings using only the equipment that lies within a human vehicle and the Supreme Science of Contact, otherwise known as the science of meditation.

So, we look at Humanity. Like every dimension or Kingdom before becoming a thing in dense form, Humanity is a Cosmic Concept. Humanity's arrogance and infatuation with its intellectual powers has been a huge contributor to the obfuscation of the meaning and significance, as well as a gigantic block to registering and understanding, the instructions packed into these Cosmic Principles. It is, however, gradually becoming clear that the meaning and significance of any concept including humanity cannot be encompassed by the intellect alone.

Presently, as a reality, the fact of the essential oneness of Humanity is beyond the grasp or even interest of the majority of Earth humans. The Idea of "mankind," the One Humanity, is not popular. Celebrities of the various departments of human living are not interested in it for a good reason. Thus dominated as they are with the glammers of prestige and exclusivity, there is no space in the marketplace of human interest for the One Humanity.

The Idea of "mankind," the One Humanity, is not popular!

In a way this is a good thing.

The One Humanity as a concept is relatively clean. I have thought, therefore, that this would be a good time to be pro-active, as they say, and try to unpack this huge concept somewhat. I hope and think that a smallish, deeper look into the meaning and significance of this concept will help in bringing it more quickly and coherently into manifestation.

To start at the relative beginning, all Cosmic concepts are in themselves a synthesis. They are Whole Systems of Intention, parts of a Cosmos about which we know next to nothing. They are the Being, the Zero or nothing out of which ceaselessly flow the endless variations and creations of Cosmos.

Concepts always manifest in particular dimensions of time and space as formulated appearances of their Synthetic Intention. No appearance is ever a perfect expression of the formless Intention. The possible variation of formulations or creations of appearances based on the formless Intention are inexhaustible.

So Humanity, in essence, is One. The diversity of its possible formulations or appearances on earth is amazing. There are, according to current data, 6.5 billion individual human beings on planet Earth.

There are, according to most scientific evidence, no two individuals exactly alike.

Yet there is only One Humanity.

It gets better. Realize that Humanity is a Cosmic Conception. Its appearance is not limited to this one particular time/space dimension, single, really tiny planet immersed in this one, single, not that significant or impressive time/space solar system. And yet there is only One Humanity. There are trillions upon trillions of appearance variations of the One Humanity!

So what?

Well for starters, realizing that Humanity is a concept not a dense appearance in form, we can immediately dispense with the arrogant notion that humans only appear on earth and look just like we do. We can remove the blinds that hold that no other planet in the Universe is able to support "human" life. We can begin to understand that humanity and the subjective powers that it employs, such as Will, Love, and Intelligence, are energies. We can understand, that the form in which these Life energies appear or manifest is a creation that is compatible and practical within the time/space and physical nexus of their appearance.

Humanity is having an aha! experience without intellectualizing it into the impenetrable mass of thoughtform oblivion.

These forms are effects of the Principle of Humanity appearing in time/space dense matter. We can begin to dimly sense and appreciate the incredible creative power of Cosmos. This realization will unchain us from our fixation on a one-dimensional view of Life in a manner which we are only beginning to imagine.

So, as we can gradually encompass or include this reality into brain awareness, so that it becomes a given and a realized fact, we will be freed from the crazy set of instructions that were slipped into the box somewhere between the Creator's mailing and our reception. This is happening now. The fact of the One Humanity, as I said, is not a celebrity status concept. It never will be because the One Humanity spells the death of the ancient specter of separation, exclusivity, superiority, and special privilege. So the One Humanity will probably not "go viral" on Facebook or the Internet.

However, it is "going viral" in a very subtle, "under the radar," manner on the Inner Net. The One Humanity is, after all, a very pure, very high grade energy which can penetrate any density of ignorance as awareness without necessarily being "intelligently" comprehended. There is a knowing which operates both above and below the intellect. So, perhaps not that intellectually understood, as yet, there is a rapidly growing comprehension or realization on a consciousness level that we are of one Kind, one tribe, one Beingnes. Humanity is having an aha! experience without intellectualizing it into the impenetrable mass of thoughtform oblivion.

This phenomenon, completely overlooked or, when suspected by those who are still locked into the one-dimensional view, outright denied, is sweeping through billions of the 6.5 billion humans walking around on this planet. This phenomenon goes by a number of somewhat esoteric terms like “the expansion of consciousness,” or “the reappearing Christ,” or “the externalizing Hierarchy.” On the individual level, this deep inner realization of brotherhood flashes forth in that sense of recognition, that spark of light and sense of relationship that passes wordlessly and instantly between individuals when we encounter one another on the street or in a market or on a plane.

This electric exchange is undeniable. People are not that conscious of how energy works on the etheric subplanes, but that too is being rapidly revealed by those scientists who are somewhat liberated from the one-dimensional, dense physical view of reality. There are many powerful examples of this Kindness exchange, but perhaps the most powerful, for me anyway, is when I encounter an infant child in her or his carriage or parent’s arms.

Understand, I am a fairly hardnosed, practical kind of guy. I want to know how knowing or doing this or that will “grow corn.” I also find sentimentalism which masquerades as love to be a highly efficient enforcer of materialism and one of the major plagues blinding humanity. So for years, mistaking what I was registering as sentimentalism, I denied or ignored the energy impacts these Kindness encounters were making on my heart. (It is good to remember that it is the heart that hears. The mind only listens and organizes.) This state of denial initially had to do with being “manly,” I suppose, but it developed into not registering the very presence of little children except as kind of mobile noise makers.

Years ago now, I was, through a series of events, seriously challenged on that score and pretty much removed that blockage from my view of life. So yesterday evening while I was taking a short stroll in the neighborhood, I encountered Mattie, the 18 month-old child of my neighbor. Mattie was being carried by her baby sitter for a little walk. I had not seen Mattie for 6 months or so. Our eyes met. It was like locking onto a target. She held me in her gaze without blinking for a longish time.

It was a powerful, powerful encounter with another soul who, although inside an 18 month old vehicle, well-knew who she was and who I was.

I was amazed at the tangible energy of recognition that flowed from this infant. There was nothing of an emotional or intellectual frequency in the look. It was pure unformed consciousness moving through the etheric web. This is the only energy the soul has with which to communicate.

It was the loving awareness of a recognition of Kindness which I returned. It was a powerful, powerful encounter with another soul who, although inside an 18 month old vehicle, well-knew who she was and who I was.

You may chalk this report up to sentiment, but that would be a big mistake. We, as was I, are usually taught to doubt such notions and such recognitions. However, these kinds of encounters are real. They are energy exchanges of brotherhood, of our Kindness.

I suppose that someday, probably soon, we will have some form of physical technology capable of registering the electrical flow of energy between us. However, we do not have to wait for such a rather crude device to appear. The one we carry in our chest and between our ears is more sensitive than any mechanistic or technological device that will ever be invented.

A major blockage to the “expansion of consciousness” or the recognition of the One Humanity and thus a major hurdle to impressing brain consciousness with the reality is this tendency to find some dense physical explanation for all of these psychic or, perhaps more clearly, etheric, energy exchanges we experience. For example, we were probably all taught as children that ghosts were not real. I can clearly remember that whenever I became aware of any sensation that I could not see or that looked in any sense at all like a ghost or spook or whatever, I could banish it simply by not believing that it was real.

The issue is that unless we can register these events in the brain consciousness we are going to be unable to unpack the directions which are contained in these essential Principles. These directions are formless and are simply not recognizable using form-related awareness. They can be formulated only after they are registered as consciousness.

As we know, the fourth subplane of each dimension is both the doorway in and out of the higher and lower frequencies of the dimension. Thus the fourth ether of the 7th sub-plane is the doorway into the physical brain. We need to not doubt the reality of these more subtle dimensions. We need to “realize” the fact of their presence and thus blaze the trail or open the Path to them for the rest of our brothers and sisters.

I leave us all with this plea from our Teacher, (my emphasis)

*“I ask you to drop your antagonisms and your antipathies, your hatreds and your racial differences, and attempt to think in terms of the one family, the one life, and the one humanity. I ask for no sentimental or devotional response to this challenge. I would remind you that hatred and separateness have brought humanity to the present sad condition. I would add to that reminder, however, the fact that there is in the world today a large enough number of liberated men to produce a change in the attitudes of mankind and in public opinion, if they measure up by an act of the will to what they know and believe. Esoteric Psychology II P. 187

JOYOUS GREETINGS

We, the one humanity, approach the day of the return of the Light.

Christmas is the name most people in the West currently give to the celebrations of this ancient ritual. This celebration, known by many, many names, in many cultures has been observed on all dimensions through meditation, song and dance throughout what we call history. The probability is that the observance of this point in the yearly cycle is as old as humanity.

Soon that golden disc we call the Sun will stop its southward journey and begin the return to the north. This time out of mind heavenly event which occurred even in the darkest possible times of our unfolding history is the Herald of the Light. It is the sky size guarantee of the return of harmony and coherence of what we think of as Spring, rebirth, renewal.

Although not recorded in very many of the historical records, it was probably at this time in the cycle, the time of the return of the Light, that a major Avatar would come to humanity and reveal the next phase of the Great Unfolding we call the Plan. This is the plain and simple meaning of the birth of the Christ during this period.

The Christ Avatar carried into incarnation through a human body and actively demonstrated as a human being the energy we call Love the energy which alone will reveal the Path which lies before humanity.

One of the simplest and most profound of his many simple and profound utterances was that we were all children of the same Father.

Humanity is One.

We could think of no other way that would bring this simple essential Truth to the forefront of our minds than to share with you all in this season the enclosed Unification Mantram. It is our hope that you will join us in sounding this ancient and powerful Word of Power, not as a request or an appeal for help, but as an actual Cosmic Fact with all the power of your loving hearts.

*"The basis of all Logoic action is love in activity, and the fundamental idea on which He bases action connected with the human hierarchy is the power of love to drive onward,— call it evolution, if you like, call it inherent urge, should you so prefer, but it is love causing motion and urging onward to completion." 經

The sons of men are one
And I am one with them.
I seek to love, not hate;
I seek to serve
And not exact due service;
I seek to heal, not hurt.

Let pain bring due reward
Of light and love.
Let Soul control the outer form,
And life, and all events,
And bring to light the Love
That underlies the happenings
Of the time.

Let vision come and insight.
Let the future stand revealed.
Let inner union demonstrate
And outer cleavages be gone.
Let love prevail.
Let all men love.
